The Botsford Inn

Commemorative Brick Plaza

Is the Botsford Inn part of your family's history?

For generations, families and friends celebrated special days at the Botsford Inn – engagements, weddings, anniversaries, birthdays, holidays and Sunday dinners. Built in Michigan's pioneer days of 1836, the Inn has been witness to more than 170 years of Michigan history. Its current owner, Botsford Hospital, has restored the Inn's exterior to its 1925 Henry Ford era appearance.

We invite you to purchase a commemorative brick in the plaza directly outside the Inn honoring a special event, person or memory. This program is offered only in 2009. Your purchase of a brick will help to write a new chapter in the history of the Inn by supporting the renovation and restoration of its interior.

As responsible stewards of this important legacy, Botsford Hospital wishes to ensure that this part of Farmington area history will be preserved for future generations. We plan to restore much of the Inn's first floor, complete with furnishings from the Ford era and even earlier. A display will trace the Inn's history. Visitors will be welcomed on a scheduled basis to see the restored first floor and learn about the important role the Inn played in our community for nearly two centuries.
